I would like to add my name to the list of citizens opposed to the settlement with Microsoft. It is a victory for a company that disregarded the law, and still practices with a monopolistic attitude. As an individual citizen, I would not be allowed to snub my nose at this country's laws as they did. And had I broken the law, I would not be offered a tap on the wrist such as has been offered. Their actions were wrong, and the settlement rewards their actions by having no reasonable deterrence by penalizing them sufficiently. They will continue to arrogantly defy the laws of the land, and this settlement encourages such action even on a simple profit basis. The penalty has to be large enough to discourage such actions in the future.
